Event Report

A workshop was conducted to equip participants with the necessary skills and strategies to excel in Group Discussions (GD) and Personal Interviews (PI), which are essential parts of recruitment and selection processes for academic institutions. The focus of the workshop was to provide practical tips, real-life examples, and hands-on practice to boost participants' confidence and effectiveness in GDs and PIs.

Workshop Highlights:

Session 1: Introduction to Group Discussion (GD)

The workshop began with an overview of the relevance of Group Discussions in selection processes. The facilitator emphasized that GDs are designed to assess communication skills, teamwork, leadership qualities, problem-solving abilities, and general awareness.

Session 2: Approaching Personal Interviews (PI)

The second part of the workshop focused on excelling in Personal Interviews. The facilitator outlined that PIs assess not just technical knowledge, but also communication skills, personality traits, and how well a candidate fits into the organizational culture.

Participants found the sessions beneficial.

The workshop concluded with a summary of the key takeaways, emphasizing the importance of regular practice, staying updated on current affairs, and building confidence.

Participants expressed that the workshop helped them gain practical insights into GD and PI techniques. This workshop served as a valuable learning experience, for participants to face Group Discussions and Personal Interviews with increased confidence.
